TO CAPITALISTS.

A FRENCHMAN, who is desirous of returning to France, offers for sale an establishment for the founding of silver and lead ores.

and is situated in the mountains of the Province of Cordoba, and distant about 20 leagues from the capital of that Province.

Since its foundation, about 35 years ago, this establishment has enriched various members of a French family many years resident in Cordoba. About two years ago the then proprietor died, and since then the establishment has not been wrought, but the working of it is likely to be resumed in the course of the next fifteen days.

Monsieur Echat, a French engineer, who visited the establishment and made assays of the 'escoria' speaks particularly of the latter in a report made by him.

Besides these assays made by Monsieur Echat, there have been others made at l'Ecole des Mines de Paris &c.

In view of them all, the 'escoria' ought to yield a minimum of 4 marks of silver to every cajon of 200 arrobes and 15 to 20 per cent. of lead. Founding the escoria, and with good work, this operation alone ought to leave a clear $60,000 (sixty thousand Bolivian dollars) clear profit.

The establishment embraces all that is necessary for making shot for sporting purposes, and to be sold along with the establishment there are the three-fourth parts of ten silver mines known to be the richest in the Province of Cordoba.

No expense has been spared in adopting the latest improvements in Steam-ship Building, and it is believed that these vessels combine, in an uncommon degree, the qualities essential for passenger purposes, while, at the same time, they contain ample provision for the carriage of merchandise.

The speed of the Steamers comprising their fleet, is expected to exceed the average of any other line of Atlantic Steamers, and from the fine model of the vessels, and the uniformity in their build, coupled with great steam power, regular and swift passages are anticipated.

The Vessels are divided into water-tight compartments, and every precaution is taken to ensure safety.

The SALOONS

Will be found to afford unusual space, the whole breadth of the ships being devoted to this purpose; they are light, lofty, well-ventilated, and lavishly furnished, whilst the requisites so necessary to the comfort of Passengers in the colder portions of the year, are amply provided by an extensive arrangement of hot-water pipes and capacious fire-grates. Being placed amidships, the saloons are removed from the noise and motion experienced in the after part of the vessel.

THE Blood telegraphs its condition through the external flesh. Scrofulous eruptions, salt-rheum, ulcers, boils, blotches, white swellings, tumors, cancers, &c., are the telegraphed symbols by which the current of life indicates the fact that it is impregnated with corruptions and pleads for purification. Answer the plea with a course of Bristol' Sarsaparilla, the concentrated essence of the best vegetable depurative known to science. Soon the superficial indications will be changed, and sound flesh and a healthy, unblotched skin will supplant suppuration and inflammation. The salutary, chemical revolution produced in empoisoned blood by this harmless detergent is one of the most wonderful phenomena in the operation of medicine. cj—o11

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

"After evening prayer on the 11th "of October the admiral ordered a "double watch to be set, and promised a silken doublet, in addition "to the 10,000 maravedis, to him who "should first see the land. At 10 "o'clock p. m. Columbus was gazing "wistfully seaward, when he saw a "light. No one slept that night. "Morning revealed a wooded shore, "crowded with natives."

The anniversary of the discovery of America should be kept as a holiday throughout this continent. It was an event of greater importance than the Declaration of Independence, and yet the day passes by without notice. Columbus, in the language of Spanish historians "gave another world to Castille and Leon." He did much more, for he gave birth to a world which was destined to offer a home to one-half the human race, to be the nursery of free institutions unknown in Europe, and to give mankind a wider scope of industry, ambition and intellectual progress than history can record.

What was the Roman Empire in its grandest days to the present Republic of the U. States? In extent of territory, wealth, commerce or civilization the Model Republic as much surpasses ancient Rome as the latter did the Empire of Alexander. And if we compare the institutions and intellectual standing of the U. States and Rome we find the former country boasts as many public schools as the Roman empire did towns, provinces and victorious legions; and while Roman Senators used to feed their fish with unhappy slaves and allow a man's creditors to cut up his body by way of payment of his debts, the U. States have civil and religious liberty in its widest form the basis of their Constitution.

Consider what an effect it would have had on the history of the Dark Ages it Columbus had been born a thousand years earlier. Consider how backward the human race would be in this 19th century if he had never been born. The new world which had lain hid in the wastes of ocean for 4,000 years would have remained some centuries longer unknown, but for the heaven-sent genius of Columbus.

Count up the heroes of ancient or modern times. Some have been famous warriors, others wise legislators, others distinguished artists, others lofty minded patriots. But none can at all compare with Columbus; he conquered a new world without shedding a drop of blood, the work of his hands was fairer than the best master-piece of Phidias or Praxiteles, and his patriotism throws into the shade the demigods of Greece or Rome, for his was not for one nation or one age, but for mankind and all time.

His example and achievements teach us more than one instructive lesson. He attained the great object of his life without the aids of high birth, superior learning, influential friends or brilliant talents. The wish to benefit his fellow-men, the stern resolve to face every obstacle, and the unflinching perseverance through years of trouble and periods of imminent danger; these carried him successfully to the desired end. If we examine the personal features of his character we shall find such a rare mixture of all that is gentle and heroic, as shews that the sublimity of his mind was reflected in the nobleness of his exterior.

Not only does the conduct of Columbus call for our admiration. We must not forget the magnanimity of Isabelle of Castille in selling her jewels to equip Columbus's little fleet. A splendid contrast to the avaricious spirit of Henry of Bosworth, who refused for England the offer of Columbus to discover the New World.

The mutability of human affairs is strikingly displayed in the fortunes of the discoverer of America, for, after the death of his patroness, Isabella of Castille, he suffered imprisonment and neglect, finally dying at an inn. His sons, however, were ennobled, and the estates given to them passed after some years, by the marriage of a female descendent, into the family of Braganza. Thus the lineal descendents of the Genoese mariner are the present King of Portugal and Emperor of Brazil.

THE NEW ARMY LAW.

The Argentine standing army is to be raised to 10,000 men, and the law of military reform published in yesterday's Boletin Oficial shows that the spirit of improvement which is making such progress in all public departments has at last reached the Army, which was heretofore looked on with anything but feelings of pride or esteem.

Henceforward no murderer is to be made a soldier, and herein Article 15 may be considered as having signally elevated the character and reputation of the Argentine Republic. We could wish that no criminals of any kind were to be admitted into the ranks, but it seems the law-courts are still to have the faculty of condemning a horse-stealer or a pick-pocket to military service. As the recruiting system (even with a bounty of £50) is not counted on as likely to produce a sufficient number, it is provided, in Article 19, that the various provinces must furnish contingents from their National Guards, according to the Census.

Recruits will be enlisted for four years, and if killed in action the whole of the bounty and pay handed over to the relatives, or if the soldier die from other causes as much as would be proportionally coming to him. If he be in front of the enemy at the expiration of his term he will not be allowed to leave, but will get double pay for such time. If he be on the Indian frontier he may be in like manner detained two months, but no longer. In all other cases he will be at liberty to leave the service the day his term expires.

As regards contingents, each Province will be required to send in so many able-bodied National Guards between the ages of 18 and 45, chosen by lot in each department, to serve 4 years in the army of the line.

These National Guards will receive no bounty, but at the expiration of their term a bonus of £20: they will be ever afterwards exempted from military service. Among the exceptions from enrolment for contingents are the eldest brother of a family of orphans, the son who may be the sole support of his mother or grand-mother, &c. Those who fought in Paraguay are also exempt, and it is laid down that two brothers cannot be enrolled in one family.

Article 28 provides that any National Guard drawn for service in the Line may put a substitute in the usual way.

Such is, in brief, the tenor of the new Army Law, and we welcome it as a decided improvement. As soon as the army of the Republic will be raised to 10,000 men the abominable frontier service by Nat. Guards will be done away with. The poor natives will be enabled to turn their attention to useful occupations and guaranteed in the peaceful enjoyment of their homes. The Indian frontier will also be better protected when its defence is solely entrusted to picked men paid for the purpose, and not to an incongruous crowd of unarmed gauchos mixed up with deserters, convicts and other unsuitable elements wherewith to form an army.

BRITISH COURTS AND CHILIAN PRISONS.

One of the most extraordinary questions involving international jurisprudence and the rights of a free country arose last May between H. M. S. Zealous and the Chilian authorities respecting the detention of two English seamen condemned by naval court-martial to a certain term of imprisonment.

Henry Yaddon and John Howells had committed some acts of insubordination aboard an English merchant vessel on the high seas, for which they were tried by court-martial on board H. M. S. Zealous at Coquimbo, and sentenced to 70 and 84 days' imprisonment respectively in the prison of that city. The Intendente of the place consented to put them in detention until he should receive orders from his Government, and at once telegraphed to Santiago for instructions. The Minister of Foreign Affairs telegraphed back as follows—

"We cannot confine in our prisons 'British subjects sentenced by British 'tribunals. In cases of desertion we "can detain sailors provisionally."

The British Consul-General, Mr. Drummond Hay, hereupon wrote to the Chilian Government, insisting that as these sailors had been guilty of mutiny on board an English vessel, and condemned according to English laws to imprisonment in the Chilian jail of Coquimbo, the Chilian authorities were bound to obey the sentence, and confine the offenders for the term prescribed by the court-martial held on board H.M.S. Zealous.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs replied that any offence committed on the high seas on board an English vessel was the same as if committed in England, of which Chilian law-courts could take no cognizance, and that it was highly absurd for the commander of H.M.S. Zealous and the British Consul to suppose that the Chilian Government must keep prisons for the punishment of persons condemned by British tribunals.

His Excellency Dr. Ybañez quoted Wheaton, Story and other commentators on international law in support of his views, and said that piracy was the only crime which all nations regarded as a common injury and agreed to chastise by all means in their power. Cases similar to Yaddon and Howells" occurred everyday but nowhere was it pretended to make a foreign nation open its prisons to punish the offenders. To shew Mr. Drummond Hay and the commander of H.M.S. Zealous how contrary their proceeding was to the criminal jurisprudence of Great Britain he quoted the case of the Criolla—

The Criolla was an American barque which sailed from Richmond, in 1841, for New Orleans, having as passenger on board a wealthy planter who was accompained by a number of slaves. Off the coast of Florida the slaves mutinied, murdered the mate, put the captain and owners in irons, and sailed to one of the Bahama islands belonging to Great Britain. The American Government demanded of the British Government to punish the criminals, but Lord Aberdeen, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, laid down the theory that as the crime was committed under the American flag the British tribunals could not try the murderers; he further declared in his speech [Feb. 14th 1872] in the House of Lords that he had consulted the law-officers of the Crown, who decided that Great Britain could not even deliver up the criminals to be tried and punished by the U. States.

Mr. Drummond Hay wrote an apology (June 29th 1872) to the Chilian Government, laying all the blame on the commander of H.M.S. Zealous "who put forward a request that could not be granted."

PARIS LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Aug. 27th 1872.

It was full time for the adulators of M. Thiers to receive a snubbing, and such has arrived from Rouen, the strong-hold of protection. It was proposed in the Municipal council to invite the President to come and witness the welcome that would he given to him in the capital of Normandy, when a councillor observed, that it would be better to leave M. Thiers to his leisure, and that the growing fashion of several cities to 'have him out,' smacked too much of the ex-empire, and which Napoleon III. became at last so fatigued of, that he often left the bowing to the crowd business to General Fleury or Marshal Canrobert, while he remained in the shade enjoying his cigarretto. It is a weakness in the French thisdesire to personify power in a man, whether such be King, Emperor or even President, to weary him with homage or to stupefy him with incense, until the day arrives to cast him from his pedestal, when he would find the depth of popular ingratitude and abandonment. M. Thiers is known to long for his simple life, yet political foes accuse him of playing the King; some journals hint he aims at tyranny, and a few condemn him for his ambition to place himself in the ranks of the gods.

It is a morbid, disreputable curiosity, to which a certain portion of the Paris journals pander, by acting the part of 'Jeames' around M. Thiers at Trouville. It is puerile for a republic, and unworthy of a people in whose resurrection from calamity one hopes to see more marked evidences of virility.

The Councils-General now sitting have so far attended to the business of their departments, and left politics in their proper place. This is a circumstance worthy of note in the progress of the country towards prudence and good sense. Beyond propositions to remove from the Council Chambers all insignia of the late empire, nothing more political was indulged in. It is the fashion for every new dynasty to remove the emblems of its predecessor; the curiosity shops find it their interest to buy up the discarded idols, as experience proves Fortune may in time make them again serviceable. The contemplated banquets in honor of the fourth of September 1870, are prohibited; France is so far distant from toleration and liberty, that rival parties cannot be trusted to keep the peace whilst stumping. Besides, the republic exists to every one's comprehension, except the monarchists who appointed M. Thiers for its President. The 'fourth' has not much glory to recall, except a nation's army ruined, and the overthrow of a dynasty without a drop of blood, with no appeal made to the nation to elect a parliament to decide upon the continuance of war, and to dispense with the dictatorships of Gambetta, Favre, and Trochu.

Manifestoes continue to be published, both individually or collectively; they are either full of sound and fury signifying as usual nothing, or so namby-pamby as to be neither fish, nor flesh, nor good red-herring. In fact for the moment all parties appear to 'rest and be thankful'; leaving the care of the house entirely to M. Thiers. When the coming struggle arrives, political weaklings will be swept away. If the republicans be wise they will continue to keep quiet, to rely upon inertia for their power. Their strength is in sitting still. This is true conservatism for the moment; but there are laws to be repealed and institutions founded that no conservatism can oppose. Pastor Pressensé, one of the deputies for Paris, would send the Legitimists to the Viceroy of Egypt who is the guardian of mummies, and compares their chief Henry V. to a somambulist walking with eyes open but seeing nothing of the modern world. France wants free-trade; free and compulsory education; the right of meeting as a safety valve for wild politics, and of association to enable trades to form co-operative societies; the press must be left unfettered, and its delinquencies submitted to a jury, not controlled either by a General, a Minister or a police agent. Kingdom, empire, commune, or republic, all alike treat the press according to their good pleasure, only differing in the manner and point of rapidity for extinguishing a disagreeable journal.

The undertaker's men are the happiest mortals at present in Paris; their wages have been increased 25 per cent. If they appear cheerful, like Steel's mutes, it will be a misfortune. It is to be hoped, the improvement will put an end to the inhuman practice that such men have of importuning for gratuities even in the chamber of death itself. They are the only class in the city who have a really workingman's club: they associate but among themselves, and ever go in pairs—like the police or Juno's swans.

There is much philosophy in the remark, that people never dine so well as in their own houses. Necessity is compelling citizens to test the truth of the assertion, for restaurants charge such extravagant prices for everything and nothing, that a man must be in a position to write a Peabody cheque or he will be swamped. The eating-houses are becoming deserted, and proprietors seeing their craft in danger, blame the markets, and hold meetings to reduce tariffs. The good old table d'hote arrangement is dying out, where for a fixed sum you could dine without any dread of digestion being impaired by the 'quart d'heure de Rabelais'; the restaurants, the better to fleece, have adopted a 'carte,' with no displayed prices, and it is only when the bill is presented, you discover how you have been on the road to ruin. Shake the dust off your shoes at such man-traps. The bakers too are terrible conservatives; flour is 14fr. the sack cheaper than what it was some months ago, and yet bread sells at the same price. The guild is as omnipotent as a New York 'ring.' The simple way to cure this abuse is to establish, not governmental, but municipal bakeries, a system which works so well in Turin. Then the servants are difficult to manage; ladies complain that when engaging a cook, it is the 'cordon bleu' that puts her intended mistress under direct examination, and if required to follow materfamilias to market, to 'faire le chien' as the phase is, she refuses, and will only engage on being entrusted to purchase the supplies solus.

The War-Minister is M. Thiers; general Cissey exists only in name. Several journals do not speak complimentary of the artillery trials at Trouville. Now since the assembly has decreed and voted the money in support, that France cannot too soon resume her rank as a first class military power, it is natural, since Prussia has taken all the material of war, that it must be replaced, and before purchasing, it is only wisdom to discover the best man killing weapons. As for the testings being viewed as a menace to European peace, such is all nonsense; Germany knows as well as France when the war of revenge can become possible, and the forthcoming imperial gathering at Berlin will likely adjourn it, till all parties are quite ready. The drawing for conscripts in accordance with the new military law, by which every citizen must serve, though the 'drawing' may ameliorate the mode of service, has commenced; the young men were generally reserved; a few sang 'Mourir pour la patrie,' and some cried, 'a bas la Prusse,' but all felt that there was work in store them, and that their enrolment was a grave affair. The 4th November is named as the opening day of Bazaine's trial; the Marshal is reported to at last have comprehended the gravity of his position, and will make a change in his system of defence; he wishes it to be understood, that the Commandership in chief, greatness in fact, was thrust upon him. No one believes this who knows his ambitious nature. The earliest witnesses to be examined, are General Palikao, Marshal Macmahon and Gambetta, and the first count in the indictment, is that accusing Bazaine of concealing Macmahon's dispatches. This fact if proved, ought to finish the trial and the accused at the same time.

The Commune has been called to mind these last few days by the police searching, according to martial-law, for arms. Some were discovered, but useless, after concealment in cesspools.

M. Thiers stated he would be more severe against the young men who lately cried 'Vive l'Empereur,' and 'A bas Thiers,' only he was personally brought into the matter. He will make no difference between the captain and the soldier: the rank blasphemy on the part of either will be equally punished. The families of the implicated are all notorious Bonapartists. Wonder what would be the fate of him who cried, 'Vive Henri V.' or 'Vive Louis Philippe II.?' The public would laugh beyond doubt—but the law?

The trial for robbery of six cannon, a battery of bronze mountain guns, from the guarded court-yard of the Vicennes fort in March last, is now taking place. The bronze was sold at the rate of 50 frs. per cwt., and 12 men are accused, either as principals or accomplices; one prisoner died since his arrest. The howitzers were stored under a shed, inside an enclosure over six feet high; two artillerymen carried the pieces from the store, dropped them into the moat, from whence they were drawn up by waiting assistants on the counter scarp. All this is not complimentary to the sentinels, nor to the store-keepers, who only missed them three weeks after they were taken, and then even, in consequence of an order to deliver some of the four pounders; nor to the 'octroi' officers, who failed to detect the cannon, as they were carted into Paris to be broken up, or to be melted down. It is annoying to think how the Prussians must laugh at French military vigilance.

The proprietors of the 'Almanach de Gotha' could only obtain reliable particulars as to M. Thiers, by applying to himself; his portrait is to adorn the edition of the 'Almanach' for 1873—an event that would almost justify the Rabagas to rush to the barricades.

M. Paul Bert is an advanced republican deputy and a celebrated physicist; he has for some time been studying the action of compressed air on animals, as especially in the case of men employed in diving operations. If the workman suddenly passes from the artificial to the ordinary atmosphere, death ensues from paralysis. When the pressure is high, the gas accumulates and dissolves in the blood; when this pressure is suddenly removed explosions succeed in the veins, and the spinal marrow becomes fluid-like.

The police have been very active in seizing some illustrated cartes, having for object the ridiculing of religion; they have been equally happy in arresting the manufacturer of the "fire-work cigar"—a sort of infernal machine composed of tobacco in the form of a cigar, and enclosing an explosive mixture near the smoking end, which on the fire approaching exploded, and if some teeth were not knocked out the moustache and whisker were burned; this latter effect constituted the 'fun.'

There is a story going the rounds that M. Thiers' tailor sent him a dressing gown some inches too long; Madame Thiers, her sister and a lady friend were present at the trying on, and noted the number of inches necessary to shorten it. All three ladies severally, and unknown to each other, effected the alteration, and when the Head of the State next essayed it he found it had been improved into a kind of jacket.

Some journals have been warmly disputing the point, whether Roch, the chief executioner of France, did or did not scream when he lately had a tooth extracted. They are now crying shame on the young man who was engaged to marry Roch's pretty daughter, but backed out, the newspapers having drawn too much attention to the matter. The perjured lover is himself the son of a provincial headsman, and a 'cutter out' in one of the principal clothier's shops.

A countess was happily seated at dinner with her husband and family, when an apothecary begged to see her alone: she came, and he gently told her that her husband had suddenly died, and that the remains were in the hall. "Here is my husband," said the countess, and the count bowed, regretting that he could not disembarrass the apothecary of his corpse. "But here is your pocket book, containing fr. 3,500," replied the apothecary; "I know it," replied the Count, "it was stolen from me during the day." The fact was, the Count had forgotten it with his mistress, and the latter disinterested creature before she could clutch it, saw it taken away by another admirer, who perhaps died of joy. The Countess could not understand why her husband would not claim his money, and in doing so for him, discovered a Hagar, and a little Ismael.

In the Faubourg St. Germain, an hotel keeper had on his sign board that 'English, Spanish and German is spoken here.' An Englishman arrived, and knowing a little French got on fairly, when he requested to see the interpreter who spoke English, he was told there was none—it was the 'travellers' who spoke the languages advertised, when stopping at the hotel.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Excelsior! The Garonne and La France are at Montevideo with news and emigrants. Wool up. Hides up. Tallow up, and 1200 immigrants will be up to-morrow. Glorious news 'pon honour.

Pluvious Jove put in a vigorous appearance yesterday morning at half-past nine a.m., cleaning the streets and clearing the wool plazas of early birds and buyers inspecting new wool, etc. The rain, which cleared off at noon, was pretty general in neighbouring partidos, and was evidently the butt end of the terrific 'temporal' announced at Rosario on Tuesday' morning. The future capital of the republic was knocked about considerably by the Storm Fiend, who blew off the roofs of palaces and hovels with the strictest impartiality, knocked ships and schooners in the river into hats, cocked and wide-awake, burst open doors, tore seats and trees from the Plaza, hurled several STANDARD subscribers from their beds, made immortal smash of quintas and chacras, and finally returned to the caves of Eolus leaving everyone horribly frightened, but 'nobody hurt.' The oldest, smallest, or tallest Rosarino, cannot remember such a storm.

We received by the mail no fewer than four letters of various dates from our own correspondent in Paris. We publish one of 'them to-day, the rest will appear in order of date.

"Not for Joseph!" Mr. Josephs, the well-known Bazaar proprietor in Calle Florida, has assumed the mantle that once sat so gracefully on the shoulders of our mellifluous friend Turmeau. Josephs has now on hand tea of the same quality as that which the Brother of the Sun, Moon and Stars takes every morning before getting out of bed. Josephs' Imperial Bohea is the beverage of the day, night, and even "top of the morning." Advertize it Joe, advertize it. Publicity is the Philosopher's Stone of the age.

Oh! Tea—Oh gentle Tea,
Nature's soft nurse, how have I courted thee,
That thou so oft will keep my eyelids ope,
And wake my senses from forgetfulness!
Why rather, Tea, liest thou on Joseph's shelves,
With "Yankee notions" crushing thee,
Than in the perfumed parlors of the great,
Locked in tea-caddies of costly state,
And wetted with hands of sweetest symmetry?
Oh! thou dull Joe, why huck-ster'st thou thy Tea
In whitey brown: and leav'st the Chinese chest,
A deal case, or a common tea-pot?
Wilt thou, upon the fresh and teeming page,
Open the Public eye, and pick its brains
By medium of the long imperious "puff,"
And in the visitation of the wives,
Who take the ruffian husbands by the top,
Curling their darling heads and hugging them,
With milk and sugar and the "hissing urn,"
That with the row the blessed baby wakes?
Can'st thou, Oh! Joseph, give thy Bohea
To the dry public in an hour so rude,
And, in this widely circulating page,
With all appliances and means to boot,
Forget to advertize?

The Messrs. Lacrosse are unpacking and putting together another batch of new tramway cars, and some of them are already running They are very handsome, with plated 'fixings' and all the latest improvements Of course Mr. W. Hughes of New York shipped them, and everything he ships is A1 at Lloyds or any place else.

The rise in the price of coal at home has led to the discovery of five new mines of that indispensable article in the North and South of Ireland. It is a curious fact that all the mines to the north are of bituminous coal, while those to the south are of anthracite. The working of turf and peat bogs has also received an impulse from the increase in value of 'black diamonds.'

The Campana railway inauguration takes place to-day, and in Sunday's issue our readers may expect a full description of the ceremony.

A kind subscriber has favored us with a graphic description of the celebrated town of Bray, the Quilmes of Ireland, famed for its trout and charming situation. We know by heart every inch of the ground described, but as many of our readers may never have been within such easy distance of the Dargle and Devil's Glen, we shall publish the paper sent to us on the first opportunity, and have to thank our contributor.

The Capital of Rosario announces the formation of a regular colony of thieves and camp rogues in the neighbourhood of Cerillos, under a man named Coria; the ruffians have settled down on a site of 200 varas square, and sally forth by night to steal and 'carnear' cattle. What are jocosely called the camp police exhibit the utmost reluctance to intertere with tha "colonists"

A London paper says, in reference to the late eruption of Vesuvius:—

"Believers in the idea that electricity is the all-pervading influence will be pleased to hear that Professor Palmieri, who watched the eruption of Vesuvius from his observatory on the mountain, says the electric currents developed in the mountains were very strong. These phenomena are not produced in every eruption. Professor Palmieri observed that during the last a great quantity of lightning darted and played about the large cone of smoke and ashes which rose from the crater. The lightning was produced by the violent jets of smoke and ashes, by means of which the electric current is formed previous to bursting. He further says: "I have analysed the smoke which rises above the lava, and have been well roasted, but I discovered that it is soluble in salt water". From this he inferred that at the depths of the volcano there was a communication between the sea and the fire during the terrible convulsions. Speaking of the appearance of the mountain during the eruption, he said that the entire cone seemed as though it were sweating fire through all its pores. By night these pores appeared like points of fire nailed on to the back of the mountain; by day they were changed into smoke, and resembled so many whitish-coloured holes."

A home paper contains the following distressing maritime announcement:—"The Inflexible, Captain Lyall, which sailed from Calcutta for Boston, U.S., on the 1st of July, 1871, was spoken a fortnight later, and never heard of since.

The new Custom House of Rosario will be commenced forthwith. The contractors are Messrs Rezia and Sala, and the cost is estimated at 134,000 patacons.

The following is the latest and only news from the Cape:—"His Excellency, Mrs. Musgrave and suite, arrived in the R.M.S. Natal, on the 13th instant, but did not land until the morning of the 15th. His Excellency and Mrs. Musgrave met with a very hearty reception both at the landing place and in town. Addresses were presented by the Mayor and Town Council, Chamber of Commerce, and Immigrants' Aid Office, and very graceful replies given. A well-attended levee and reception were held. There was a drive round the suburbs as far as the hospitable and beautiful precincts of Overport. A dinner attended by most of the chief functionaries and leading men of the town and neighbourhood was held, and a large concourse of townsfolk escorted his Excellency out of town on his departure two days after arrival, for Maritzburg. The Fields are yielding some splendid diamonds. Farmers are throwing up the plough for the pick. A fine chacra of 400 acres was lately sold for £200, the proprietor going to try his fortune at the Kopjee. The principal news from the Fields is that Colesberg Kopjee is now worked entirely by wire or rope tramways. There have been some good finds during the month, including one diamond of 166 carats, flawed and off-coloured, found at Dutoitspan."

During his recent visitation at Mercedes the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Aulon confirmed over 1000 children, and several couples had the honor of being tied for life by him.

Maestro Bimbone, 'chef d'orchestre,' had a great benefit at the Opera House on Tuesday. He was cheered, 'gold-medalled,' 'silver-batoned,' crowned and flowered to the top of his bent, and we must say he deserved it all. His 'corps de musique' is the best we have had for many a year.

Cholera is dreadfully bad in several parts of British India, according to despatches to the Times.

Great news for the Impecunious. The law abolishing Imprisonment for Debt in this province was promulgated yesterday by the Provincial Government. Tom, Dick and Harry may now bid the tribe of 'Dun' defiance. "There are no more bailiffs."

A terrible affair has occurred at Salto, B.O. An old man and his nephew conspired to run away with the wife of a man named Juan Matias. Juan was naturally rather annoyed when they attacked his house, and in defence of his 'rib' finished the nephew and wounded the old party, but not before he got badly mauled himself. Mrs. Matias has had what Mrs. Partington Brown calls 'high-strikes' [hysterics] ever since.

The Freeman's Journal says—"An ingenious correspondant has forwarded to a contemporary the following anagram: 'David Livingstone—Go [D.V.] and visit Nile."

A kind of bat that flies in immense numbers in the day time has lately visited Belfast; it is of the species known as the 'brickbat.'

A pawnbroker has just died in New York worth £2,500,000 sterling. Up to the last he used to put up and take down his shutters every day.

Canada, though she cannot beat us in many things, licks us into a three cornered hat in the borrowing way. The debt of Canada in twenty years, from 1851 to 1872, has increased from 20,481,472 dollars to 126,832,008 dollars. We must get up another loan in the Plate, just to keep up our credit; that's flat.

We learn by the mail that Captain Burton's explorations in Iceland have been most successful; he was to leave that island on the 6th September. The gallant officer had explored snow wastes in the Interior hitherto quite unknown.

All the theatrical artists at Montevideo are flitting. Madame Philippe is already here, and Madame Cepeda. La Civili, Palan, Hernandez and others will be off before the great heat comes on, which it is doing apace.

Mr. Daws, the well known librarian, has favored us with the latest magazines and periodicals from Europe and the States. They are unusually interesting, and are 'going off' as fast as a thief with a policeman after him. so we recommend early application in Calle Piedad by those who wish to secure copies.

Further news has been received from the Rio Bermejo Expedition, to 20th ult. All well; canalization works going on, and will be finished in May; Indians very friendly, and working away like 'blacks' on the excavations.

It is said the Indians have made a treaty with General Arredondo, and given up to him some captives as a sign of good faith. These Indian treaties have a vast amount of piecrust about them, and up to the present have, apparently, only been made to be broken.

Another strike! A few days ago it became our painful duty to announce that 600 of the best looking bachelors in Boston (all Bostonians are insufferably good looking) had struck, and renounced matrimony and all its pomps. Yesterday several of the ugliest carpenters in Buenos Ayres struck and threaten to strike harder. The head-quarters of the 'greve' are in Calle Corrientes. This a is very grave affair; probably the engravers will strike next.

The Director of the Normal School at Parana has been granted permission to make and consume his own gas on the premises and his own smoke also. Amateur gas making is very ticklish work, and the odds are rather in favour of a burst up some day, and the consumption of the Directors, normals, school and all, by their own gas.

The Lord Mayor of Mendoza has sent down a splendid collection of seeds of that province to the Chief of the Agricultural Department. They are accompanied by some interesting figures which it is both right and wrong to call seedy statistics. Statistics are so scarce in this part of the globe that we hail with supreme satisfaction even the smallest contribution to the national stock.

The Provincial Government has declined to accept the resignation by Mr. Delfin Huergo of his post as Chief of the Oficina de Rentas.

"Set up" and "Upset."—An Indiana paper describes the feast of a legislative delegation at a railroad dinner. The reporter is a little reckless in his grammar, but he narrates the facts in the case very pointedly: "The delegation set at two p.m. They upset at five."

The papers from the Mount yesterday were as 'cheesy' as usual. People there are funky lest they may have an epidemic this summer.

'The village of the plain' intends giving a grand ball at the Club on the 15th of next month. There is plenty of time to get 'tulle,' 'bouilloneés,' silks, satins, brocades, white chokers and tight boots ready between this and then—

"We'll dance all night
By paraffine light.
And go home with the gals in the morning."

The terribly sudden death is announced of Miss Zubiaurre, who fell suddenly stone dead in Calle Comercio on Wednesday. Several doctors were at once in attendance, but the unfortunate lady had expired instantaneously.

The charitable Bazaar at the La Plata Club commences on the 25th and will continue open for three days. People with a multitude of sins should not neglect this opportunity.

The Rev. Father Davis will leave this city to-morrow morning for Colonia, to pay a missionary visit to his flock in that direction.

There is no news from the Interior, except a sudden death and a case of manslaughter, both in Cordoba. Dr. Pizarro was the victim in the first case, apoplexy the cause; the second was the old story of passion, seduction, and vengeance, the avenger, as is generally the case, being the victim.

'Point de zele' even when you are Commander of H.M.S. Zealous. We give in another column particulars of a laughable three months row at Coquimbo in which our representatives carried off all the honours of a game of 'Put your foot in it.' It is a pity the tar and the consul were not better up in English Criminal jurisprudence, as such humble pie eating, is not at all conducive to the greater glory of Great Britain.

"There's something rotten in the state of Beet Preserving" by that astounding process known as Jones's. Our advices by Ariadne state that Earl Fortescue, Lord Lyttelton and Mr. Thomas Hughes M.P., the three trustees of the Food Preserving Company [Limited] [Jones's Patent], have resigned their trusteeships. Mr. W.D. Christie, the chairman of the company, has resigned his chairmanship, and left the Board of Directors.

We hear that Mr. Ropes is going to build a handsome country villa near the railway station at Caballito.

If any philantrophic subscriber should happen to meet one of the Daddleses about town, he or she would oblige us by telling D. that his wife wants him [a not uncommon circumstance] and calling his attention to the following advertizement from the unutterable woe column of the Times—

"Should this meet the eye of Daddles, come or send to your distressed wife. All is right."

The Bolivian Minister, Sr. Cardona, left for Rio in the Hipparchus. The morning papers assert that his mission here has not been succesful. "Nous n'en savons rien."

ON 'CHANGE.

Oct. 10th 1872.

Ounces	400
Soys	122½
Pats	25
National Bonds	77½

The Bond market continues upward and the sales for the end of the month show a speculation for that date. It was said at the ring that one broker is prepared to buy up all the bonds offered, and instead to do so. The rise of the stock in the last few days has led many to realize and with a profit, but the buyer is well backed and insiders in the present state of the market that bonds are cheap at anything under 80, moreover if the National Bank bill becomes law; one hundred thousand Bonds will be at once required to deposit as security to carry out the scheme. Thus the prospects of the market were never better. The sales to-day were—

For Oct. 31	20,000	77½
Do	10,000	77½
Do	120,000	77½

Cedulas also look better. The sales were—

Series A	20,000 cash	98½
Do	2,400 do	98½
Do	3,100 Oct. 11	98½
Do	4,600 cash	98½
Do	10,000 do	98½

Mr. Giebert, of the Fray Bentos factory, was welcomed on 'Change to-day; also Don Emilio Fernandez, the Montevidean barraquero.

In exchange there was a drop in the rate to-day by some of the banks that drew yesterday at 50⅛, to-day their rate was 50. The Carabassa Bank has drawn largely for this packet at 50; and the Italian Bank has also drawn for a good round sum at the same rate. It was said amongst the brokers that the government took yesterday some £70,000 of the Commercial Bank, at 50⅛. The River Plate is drawing at 50 pence, and the Italian Bank in bills on Genoa has done a large business at 5.28 and 5.30.

Messrs. Scharffenworth and Sattler put up on the Bolsa to-day a white star steamer board when on to place the postings.

It was rumoured in shipping circles that freights improved to-day, and several vessels have been taken up on speculation. The rates yesterday were 22s 6d; to-day 25s was spoken of. Another Italian steamer was chartered to-day by a well-known exporter.

The news from Europe to-day per Garonne and per La France, both of which steamers entered Montevideo this morning, was very important. The Bank rate has been raised to 4 per cent. Wools have risen one penny, hides in active demand, tallow better 6d. The details will be found in the telegram, first column.

The Mennon is due here about the 26th, and will leave about the 30th for Liverpool.

The money brokers to-day reported money in better demand and 7 per cent paid for money on call in Cedulas.

Mr. Kenny, in the North market sold this morning a small lot of new wool at 95. Sr. Lenguinechie has a fine lot in from the estancia Pino; 95 offered—not sold. Messrs. Peyr dieu and Bradley had to-day three lots of new wool, none of which yet sold. The rain this morning interfered with everything.

Messrs. Duggan Brothers expect one or two good lots of new wool in to-morrow, or the day after.

The great news of the day was the row about the lighters. A meeting of lightermen is called for to-morrow. It appears that the Hipparchus had to leave hides, bales, pipes, &c., behind. In one case the hides, 1,500, of six different marks, were shipped on 2nd, remained shut in the Boca 6 days, at last got out, when she got to Hipparchus, steamer unable to take more than 1,010 hides, leaving behind 490 hides of six different marks. The river was so rough that other lighters could not get alongside, and had to come back loaded with tallow, bales and salted hides. This Hipparchus business has caused a regular flare up, and now the lightermen demand triple lighterage in all cases of steamers. Some of the houses, we hear, agree to it. The lightermen are to meet to-morrow and propose to fix triple lighterage for steamers, and a fine of 200,000 m/c on any lighterman who takes less.

Mr. Agustin Drago whose association with the firm of Mitre Vedia and Co, we announced the other day has retired from the business owing to his inability to attend to it.

Some large contracts for wool were spoken of to-day, one for 30,000 ar. deliverable at estancia before middle November, another for 20,000 ar. deliverable here in market, but both transactions are so secret that the prices are not known, said to be about 9 7-95 m/c.

It was rumoured on 'Change that the measurement of the great Urquiza's estates has been finished and has resulted in many leagues of land more than the sellers thought, as the whole estates however were bought in bulk, and for a bulk sum, it is clear that Messrs Lezica and Lamas are entitled to the gain in the measurement, nevertheless this has given rise to a question, which some said might cause the whole transaction to fall through, but this seems improbable, the purchase contract must be respected.

To-day an important judicial sale of 30,000 sheep comes off at the estancia in the Rincon Ramallo near San Nicolas. The sheep are the finest and best class belonging to the estate of Don Juan Bernabe Molina, deceased, and are valued at 40 m/c. each, they will be sold in flocks to suit purchasers. Also a flock of pure Negrette and Rambouillets offspring from Ollendorff and Stegman's, valued at 75 m/c. 20 pure Negrettes at 250 m/c each.

Mr. Napp purposes publishing for circulation abroad a review in German of the Argentine Republic and its situation, the project meets with great favor, is calculated to do much good, and we believe will be supported by the Government.

The steamer Lujan after being several weeks aground in the Parana has at last got off, whilst mud bound the steamer was put under the most thorough repair. So not much time was lost after all.

The last mails from Rio Grande state that the army of reserve up there will number 50,000 men. This inspires our Rio Grande colleagues with the belief that things are not what they seem. The Rio Grandeses are certainly in a very warlike humor, but they know nothing of what is going on. The Mitre mission will close in November and close successfully.

To-day the Campana Railway party left town for the Tigre, to take Captain Bruce's steamer, steep on board, and in the morning inaugurate the works at Dr. Costa's estancia. The step is a good one, and we promise the public a full account of the ceremony.

Two cargoes have just entered for the Western Railway, one railway iron and sleepers, the other coke. The quantity of railway material now shipping from England is represented as prodigious; and yet what is it to what we shall require on the passage of Carril's Railway Law.

The Senate has insisted upon the nomination of Judge Dominguez as the new Federal Judge to fill the late Dr. Ugarte's place. No better appointment could be made. Judge Dominguez stands deservedly high, and as Provincial Judge has always enjoyed the reputation of being upright, good and painstaking: he will prove an acquisition to the Federal Court.

Mr. Crabtree's notice of the extension of his line of railway to the Central Station has attracted much attention, since he has made it the occasion to introduce some great improvements, and equally great concessions to the public that cannot fail to work immense good for his company. The reduction of monthly tickets, the running of extra trains, the extension of time for return tickets, and the halving the present telegraph rates, are measures which show that the manager knows his business, and is determined to keep up with the progress of traffic, and the increased demands of the public. It is really due to a railway manager who labours so indefatigably, not only for the company he represents, but also the public convenience, to cheer him on, and not to check him at every step, as has heretofore been the history of his management. If Mr. Crabtree hitherto has not made the improved arrangements which were so much called for, it is simply because he was deficient of the elements: now, however, due to an economic management, he has raised his company to be a splendid dividend paying concern: he has the means, and very properly employs them. At the Tigre he has erected a handsome, commodious station, at Belgrano he has erected another. The double track to Belgrano will very soon be opened, and about the 1st November the trains will run into the Central Railway station.

The sheepskins, wool and hides of the lighter Heraldo, that went down at anchor the other day belonged to the house of Deetjen & Co.

A meeting of the shareholders of the Italo-Platense Steam Packet Company is convened for the 26th inst at the Bolsa, 7 p.m., when the report will be read, &c.

The sale of six squares of land in the Potreros of the Boca facing the combination of Calle Defensa and running back to the Boca railway, for three millions of dollars, is announced, averaging the rate of half a million of dollars per square.

Mortgagors must take notice that on the 15th inst the period for paying the interest and amortizat on on their mortgage Cedulas expires, after which date defaulters will have to pay a fine.

During the storm in the river the other day several wheat cargoes from river ports were much damaged, and some totally lost. The gale was very severe, and the vessels on the Banco de la Paciencia were in a very bad way.

In our exchanges received by the last mail we find the following:—

"There were decided symptoms to-day (Thursday) in Birmingham of the growth of the conviction that iron has reached its maximum quotations. Middlemen were reported to have been offering freely at under makers' prices. The latter complained that they were being greatly pressed by such traders to deliver the iron; having been bought at rates favourable to reselling, it is put upon the market directly that it has been sent from the works. Vendors hastening to secure deliveries at once, indicates their fear that the market may soon have got to that state in which sales would be profitless. Best iron, however, goes mostly to consumers and a few first-class merchants. It is in second qualities, therefore, that the competition is now most felt. The foreign competition was discussed to-day, and buyers used it to negotiate with home producers, but without much effect in other than descriptions of no great merit. Actual arrivals of foreign iron are not reported to any considerable extent; and the tendency of quotations here will diminish the prospects of Belgian and French firms.

"At the same time sheets capable of being stamped, and good sheets for galvanising with strips for the tube makers, and best plates, all keep very strong, with a tendency to rise even higher, for some of the Russian buyers are offering a premium for the speedy execution of orders to save the current shipment.

"The German and other continental buyers still buy eagerly all descriptions of plain and corrugated galvanized sheets for roofing purposes, and they do not hesitate to pay makers' terms. These are:— Bars, £15 10s to £16; hoops, £18 to £20; gas and steam strip, £18 to 24; sheets (singles), £21; doubles, £24; lattens, £26; and plates, £2 10s to £21.

"The population in New York is now about one million. Its territorial area covers New York city, twenty-two square miles. It has 29 miles of water frontage, 300 miles paved and 166 miles of unpaved streets. Twenty-thousand gaslights nightly burn in the streets and public places, at a public expense of 43 dl. per year for each lamp. There are 350 miles of Croton water pipes and 277 miles of sewers. There are over 2000 men in the police force and 600 firemen, whose salaries together amount to a round sum of 3,000,000 dols.; 3000 workmen are employed. The city contributed to the support during the past year of 51,466 criminals. It alleviated during the same time, by out-door and institutional charity the sufferings of 195,334 of the sick.

"The Rise in Prices. There are strong symptoms in many quarters that the general rise in prices in British Manufactured and other goods has already gone far beyond legitimate bounds, and that the trade of the country may soon receive a proportionate check. Only a few days back some large orders for iron for marine purposes reached London from the Italian Government, but were withdrawn on account of the terms demanded, and transferred to France, where they were promptly placed. In like manner, a commission from South America for the purchase of the materials for a large iron theatre has just been lost on this side and taken by French contractors.—Globe.

"The steamship Adriatic's last voyage from Liverpool to New York was accomplished in a few minutes less than eight days. During the first twenty-five hours, with a light easterly breeze, she steamed 403 miles. We are informed that had it not been for a heavy head sea during thirty-six hours, when her speed was slowed to eight knots, and the lightness of her cargo causing part of her screw to be out of the water, there was every probability of her accomplishing the run from Queenstown to Sandy Hook within seven days.

Two steamers arrived this morning, one from Montevideo and the other from Uruguay: both crowded with passengers. The passenger traffic was never at any period better than at present, still it is only sufficient to keep the steamers going that are plying on the river. No branch of business has been more overdone than this steamboat, if we perhaps except the newspaper. During the year 1860—65 the steamboat business paid so well that everyone desired to enter the business. We all recollect the dividends of the Salteña Company, but all that is passed: for the the last few years the steamboat business has proved all but ruinous to those engaged in it: now it is coming round, but as the public is well served the business should be left as it is. We mention this as there was an effort last month to get up a new Rosario steam line, which, it is satisfactory to know, has collapsed.

The new French tariff is important. The full text of the law is too lengthy for publication, but the following abstract bears upon River Plate trade.

The import duties collected by the custom-houses of France on the following articles shall be as follows:—

The news from Montevideo to-day was important. The splendid Maua dry docks are now finished, and next week will commence operations by taking in the Spanish gunboat Ceres. This dock is one of the largest enterprizes in the River Plate, and we purpose giving shortly a detailed description of it. General Caraballo and his brother have left for Paysandu. Laborers are in great demand—100 men are wanted for the railway, 30 men for shearing, and any number of cooks and servants are called for, and at high wages. No new wool is expected in Montevideo for a week. One of the principal barraqueros has left for Buenos Ayres on a wool business of great magnitude. The summer is fast approaching, most of the families are leaving for the quintas, yet there is a nervous apprehension as to the future health of the city, and the strictest quarantine will be imposed. The Senate has sanctioned the new loan bill sent up from the representatives empowering the Government to emit 2,700,000 in bonds for the amortization of all the old ones; another trial of the Road steamer has been made which has given the most complete satisfaction, a new joint stock gun powder manufactory is about to be started and with every prospect of success. The amortization of the Maua Bonds takes place to-day (10) by a strange coincidence, these are the first securities which by amortization entail a loss upon the holder, the bonds are at 2 premium, and are amortized by lot at par, this speaks for the splendid credit of the Baron Maua in the River Plate to-day.

The Boyne has brought out 11 chests of bank notes to the Provincial Bank. Also two carriage horses to Mr. F. Wanklyn, manager of the Commercial Bank of the River Plate.

A vessel from Genoa has brought out to Lumb Bros. four thousand asphalt cakes. What about the asphalt pavement?

The Ariadne has brought out 501 pieces of iron for the San Cristobal church alongside the charming quinta of Mr. Hugo Bunge.

The Nonpareil, just cleared by Perry for New York, takes a rather strange article of export for this country, 44 cases machinery. Centuries must roll over, and tombstones be all that is left of the whole of us, before machinery becomes an export article from the Plate. It is really too far to look ahead.

The National Government has just ordered the expenditure of eight hundred pats. for a water-supply to the model farm at Tucuman, and the same day paid to Mr. Alkaine, the broker, 50,000 pats. for bills due. The Treasury takes no new money, and only renews at 6½ per cent. per annum.

There was a great hubbub in financial circles to-day about news that has come up from Montevideo about 5,700,000 pats. new loans voted down there. As things look, the whole business will be offered if not done here 3,000,000 at 93, and 2,700,000 paid out to old creditors. People ask for what, in Heaven's name, does the Banda Oriental require such constant loans? The answer is ever the same, to pay off old standing accounts. Will it float?

In high financial circles there was much said to-day about the Nat. Bank, the bill will probably be finished to-night in the Deputies, it then goes to the Senate, the bill so far passed goes to Art. 30. The Government will have the power to name 3 directors, the other 9 to be elected by the shareholders, each Director must hold 100 shares to be eligible. The bill is hailed by all as the first sound and practical step towards opening up the interior, the conviction is now so general that it will pass, that already parties are leaving for the interior with a view to business, property in Rosario is again talked of. The bill provides for a preliminary meeting of shareholders, to arrange matters, we hear that all the notes will come from the United States.

Mr. Altgeldt placed to-day one thousand more shares of the Brazilian and Platino Telegraph Company. The list must now be nearly filled.

Respecting the Boca grievance we learn on the very best authority that if the drags were set at work in one week the mouth of the Canal would be freed from mud and the schooners able to get out. It is everyway desirable that pending the note of the legislature on the Riachuelo port scheme this portion of the work should be done. If it rains in torrents outside the lightermen believe that the current of the river may wash away the mud, otherwise the schooners must remain in.

The immense movement in real estate is the talk of the Bolsa, the brokers are seen constantly with their friends poring over the map of the city. Scarcely a day passes without one or more important sales, and we often times are in possession of various transactions which at the request of the interested parties, we are constrained to keep from publication. To-day another splendid sale of property was effected in a district where 5 years ago, property was hardly worth the contribucion Directa tax collected and it is a mark worthy feature of the present real estate movement, that there is much more doing in the far outskirts of the city than in the nearer streets, the sale to-day establishes for property in the district a price, a figure and a valuation worth the knowing. About a square of land 25,000 square yards on the Calles Caseros and Lorrea, behind the Convalescencia and near the Corrales, the property of Mr. Downes who is at present in Europe, was sold to-day for sixty thousand patacones, Sr. Lamas buyer, Mr. Altgeldt broker, this gives about 2½ pats the square yard.

Also, a piece of land on the Flores Road 36 x 155, adjoining the Quinta Lambare, at reserved price. Mr. E. T. Mullhall, purchaser.

Also, a piece of property in South Barracas, four squares from the bridge, and about 2½ squares in dimensione; prices reserved.

Also a piece of ground on the Flores road beyond Caballita, 40 x 100, facing on the high road, for which 65005 m/c has been offered and refused.

Also a piece of ground on the high road and near the Floresta, some four squares of land, for $250,000 m/c.

There was a stir in telegraphic circles to-day owing to the news that a gentleman had come up from Montevideo to sell 160 miles of telegraph material, which it appears came out for the Montevideo and Rio Grande Line, but owing to a flare up between the President and concessionaire the whole business seems to have fallen through, and now the plant is offered—who'll buy.

The German bank has at last stepped out, and the Boyne has brought down ten boxes of gold with £50,000 sterling to the Deutsche and Belgische Bank of the River Plate. This shows that the Germans are in real earnest. The delay about the sanctioning of the statutes by the Legislature is much complained of.

We received to-day a very sharp reply from Mr. Revy to Mr. Rowbotham's letter, but we must hold it over until we first publish Mr. Rowbotham's letter, which has given rise to so much comment.

A very important estancia sale in the far south is spoken of, Mr. Chas buyer, the dimensions of the property and price are as yet with held.

At the Mortgage bank to-day the clerks were busy receiving interest and amortization from Mortgagors, the arrangements of the bank are excellent, the clerks attentive and the general despatch of business a model to other concerns.

SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Calle Cangallo--103

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current is now so generally felt and appreciated in the great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need in sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, will offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM,

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wish can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Can only be obtained by the use of Rowland's Macassar Oil. It prevents the Hair falling off or turning grey, strengthens weak hair, causes it to grow on bald places, and makes it beautifully soft, pliable, and glossy. Price 3s. 6d., 7s., 10s. 6d. equal to four small, and 21s. per bottle.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.

Ask for Rowland's Macassar Oil, and avoid all other cheap articles under the same or similar names as spurious imitations. Each Bottle has a "Glass Stopper" in place of the Cork, as formerly. All with the 'Cork' are spurious imitations. This notice is deemed necessary, as the Proprietors have received intimation that a large quantity of Counterfeit, of the most pernicious quality, has lately been sent from France and Germany to India, South America, and the Colonies, under their names.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION

Is obtained by the use of Rowland's Kalydor, which always all irritation and tenderness of the skin, removes cutaneous disfigurements, freckles, and tan, and imparts a healthy and blooming appearance to the complexion and skin. During the hot and dust of Summer especially, and in cases of Sunburn and Stings of Insects, it is of the utmost use. Price 4s. 6d and 8s. 6d. per bottle. Ask for "Rowland's Kalydor," and see that their signature is in red ink on every bottle, as theirs is the only genuine.

WHITE AND SOUND TEETH

Are indispensable to personal attraction, and to health and longevity, by the proper mastication of food. Rowland's Odonto or Pearl Dentifrice preserves and imparts a pearl-like whiteness to the teeth, eradicates tartar and spots of incipient decay, strengthens the gums, and gives a pleasing fragrance to the breath. Price 2s. 9d. per box. Ask for "Rowland's Odonto," and see that their name is on the Government Stamp of every box.

ROWLAND'S ESSENCE OF TYRE

Never fails to produce immediately a perfect change in Red or Grey Hair, Whiskers, Eyebrows, &c., to a beautiful glossy and permanent Brown or Black, which colour remains so durable that neither washing or perspiration can remove it. Price 4s., 7s. 6d, and 10s. 6d per bottle.

All these articles have been used and justly patronised by all the Sovereigns and Courts of Europe, the Pope of Rome, and the aristocracy of Europe during the last seventy years, being of inestimable value to those who have once used them. They are sold by all Chemists, Perfumers, and Bazaars throughout India, the Colonies, and South America.

FAMILY HERALD.

FAMILY HERALD, WEEKLY 1d.

The 'Illustrated London News,' in reference to pure literature, speaks of 'The FAMILY HERALD, that joy to tens of thousands of innocent English households.'

FAMILY HERALD, MONTHLY 6d.

The 'Saturday Review' says: 'The FAMILY HERALD stands at the head, both in age and popularity, of all the penny serials..... The Editor is the confidant and confessor in every station of life. The Answers to Correspondents cannot be fictitious, a romance and a life history being embodied in almost each of them..... Its novels and tales are quite as well written as the best circulating library stories.'

FAMILY HERALD, ANNUALLY, 7s. 6.

The 'Literary Gazette' says: 'It must be said of the FAMILY HERALD, that it is the purest reading of all purely amusing literature; it is indeed a family paper.'

FAMILY HERALD, WEEKLY 1d.

The 'British Quarterly Review' says: 'Under the head of "The Story Teller," we have now ballads and tales simpler and purer in structure than in the pages of the other penny serials..... There are charming verses let into its pages, like sunshine, to brighten them..... It is well considered with reference to its aims, and is various and amusing, with a fair amount of utility interwined. Of all these publications we are inclined to consider the FAMILY HERALD the best.'

FAMILY HERALD, MONTHLY, 6d.

Leigh Hunt, in his Autobiography, says—'I call out every week for my FAMILY HERALD, a penny publication qualified to inform the best of its contemporaries.'

FAMILY HERALD, ANNUALLY 7s. 6d.

The 'Bookseller' says: 'For amusing reading, such as may be admitted to one's household without fear of consequences, we can recommend the FAMILY HERALD. You get portions of a well-written novel, novelettes, useful information interspersed throughout, answers to correspondents, alone worth the money, and a variety of other matters, which will make readers merrier or wiser, or perhaps both.'
